To Whom It May Concern:

Earlier this month, I asked Bill Cantrell and Jay Storr of Golf Plus Gifts to assist in a charity golf event being held in the memory of fellow PGA Professional, Philip Davis. Philip was one of Southern Texas' finest golf instructors, and a great friend to many in the Houston area. Proceeds of the event were to benefit a trust fund established to help his family, which included his wife of twenty years, Kelley, and their three children.

At first, I was somewhat concerned because I didn't know many of those who would be in attendance. With our economy in decline, a soft market for daily fee golf, and a lot of us having already donated a great deal of money to the victims of the World Trade Center attack, I just wasn't sure there was much room for donations in excess of our entry fee.

I knew with Golf Plus Gifts we had nothing to lose, so I encouraged them to bring 'a few items' for the silent auction. When Bill showed up with more than 30 items to display, I felt certain that we were barking up the wrong tree. I kept my mouth shut and let him 'do his thing', despite my fears. I'm glad that I didn't prejudge it to the point of saying 'no'.

At the end of the day, and a very limited time of exposure, Bill was able to draw bids on all but six items, and raised over $4000 for the Davis family. In my opinion, the donation helped put us over the top and made our tournament a complete success. I don't know that I would have felt the same had Golf Plus Gifts not been there to assist us.

Not only does Golf Plus Gifts provide an outstanding product line, they are professional in every sense of the word. We had a complete accounting of all the transactions and a check in our hands within days of the event. In other words, they earned our complete trust.

For any organization that is seeking to raise additional revenue for their charity, I cannot recommend Golf Plus Gifts enough. They are simply the best.

Sincerely,

Bill Pelham
